

Cambridge Tutors College Aims and Ethos

CTC London is dedicated to helping every one of our students reach their top potential within a multi-cultural and adult-focused environment. Our aim is to nurture the academic success, life skills and self-confidence required to be independent learners in higher education and to achieve their absolute best in all of life's challenges.

An inclusive community spanning over 25 different nationalities, CTC welcomes people from all over the world and from every faith and background. With the welfare of each of our students as the core focus in everything we do, we encourage good relationships and attitudes in order to maximise their personal development and happiness. We instil in them a desire to work hard, enjoy their studies and participate fully in the College's diverse activities and as a result, we see excellent grades, top university enrolment and the annual graduation of well-balanced, enthusiastic young adults.

These aims are placed on the web site and in the prospectus (both online and physical).
